

Hello there,

I've been recently invented. Well, to be honest, I'm still in a test phase of development. I hope you will be able to get me out of the lab.

I really need to be coloured by you so I can begin a real life out there. Please use your talent and colour me just like any real robot would.

Thanks a lot for your help.

Just for the record, I can give you a few pointers though. Colour my antenna yellow. Next colour my head blue. My special hearing devices can be coloured orange.

Next, colour my body pink and don't forget to colour my heart red. Finally colour my legs Green and my space shoes brown and black.
