

Hello dear future Pokémon trainer,

I'm Bulbasaur. I'm a small, quadruped Pokémon that has blue-green skin with darker patches. I've got red eyes with white pupils. I've got pointed, ear-like structures on top of my head, and a short, blunt snout with a wide mouth. I've got a pair of small, pointed teeth which are visible in my upper jaw when I open my mouth. Each of my thick legs ends with three sharp claws. I've got a green plant bulb on my back, which is grown from a seed planted there when I was born. The bulb provides me with energy through photosynthesis as well as from the nutrient-rich seeds contained within.

I'm regarded as both a rare and well-behaved Pokémon. I'm extremely loyal, even after long-term abandonment.
