Tigger

Hi there, I'm Winnie the Pooh's BFF. I'm pretty sure you know me but I'm also pretty sure you don't know who that fake man is. Please don't call me tiger, because that's not how my name is spelled. I've got many tubes of Colgate toothpaste in a bag. I've also got a washing machine, a pitcher with some water in it, a red t-shirt, a pencilcase, some pruning shears, and a "hob" also known as "cooktop" with four burners. I'm ready to go home now.

Hi, there, My daddy's name is Fidel Castro. Even though he'd lived all of his life in Cuba, I grew up in Canada. I've got a stove, an ironing board, an iron, a box of matches, a bag full of groceries, a backpack, a dozen eggs, a 9V battery, a pair of military black boots, and a stormtrooper's helmet. There's also a key chain with some keys that belong to nobody. I guess I'll just keep them as a souvenir.
